

THE STAND UP

PULL QUOTES

Writer/director David Wexler largely sidesteps the clichés that might have permeated the proceedings... Quinn is on hand to deliver a drolly humorous performance that enlivens every scene in which he appears... Margarita Levieva is highly appealing.

Pretty darn fantastic... Jonathan Sallis is excellent... made my eyes misty."

Quite enjoyable to sit through -- thanks to the performances of the entire cast, and to the quick-wittedness of the filmmaker as writer and director... Mr. Sallis is quite winning and so is Ms. Levieva, and Quinn is his usual good self... Full of spontaneity and charm... A fine date movie.

Commend David Wexler for not going where you expect in "The Stand Up."
